1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 2 and 11, drawn to a feeding apparatus having a forked rocker.
  - II. Claims 3-9, drawn to a feeding apparatus having a threaded spindle.
  - III. Claim 10, drawn to a feeding apparatus having a converging rocker.
  - IV. Claim 12, drawn to a twin feeding apparatus.
  - V. Claims 13 and 14, drawn to a method of feeding and punching comprising setting the punch in it's upper and lower dead center positions.
  - VI. Claim 15, drawn to a method of feeding and punching comprising moving the connecting rod to a location remote from it's upper dead center position.
  - VII. Claim 16, drawn to a method of feeding and punching comprising moving the punch to a location that is ahead of it's bottom dead center position.
2. Claim 1 links the inventions of groups I-IV. The restriction requirement of the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s), claim 1. Upon the allowance of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be entitled to examination in the instant application. Applicant(s) are advised that if any such claim(s) depending from or including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) is/are presented in a continuation or divisional application, the claims of the continuation or divisional application may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 44 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

3. Inventions of groups V-VII and groups I-IV (including claim 1) are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus could be employed without positioning the noted elements in their claimed positions.

4. Inventions of groups I-IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. For example, the feeding apparatus having a forked rocker of group I could be employed with a non-threaded spindle, unlike group II, and conversely, the feeding apparatus having a threaded spindle of group II could be used with a rocker having an L-shaped configuration rather than the forked configuration of group I. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Inventions of groups V-VII are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. For example, the method of group VI could be practiced without the step of placing the punch in a position ahead of it's bottom dead center position, as in group VII, and conversely, the method of group VII could be practiced without the step of moving the connecting rod into a position which is remote from it's upper dead center position, as in group VI. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

6. There is an excessive burden on the office to examine all of these inventions together, as shown by their search. See MPEP 808.02(C). For example, the search for group I would be in class 226 with a text emphasis on forked. The search for group II would not be as above, but instead would be in class 403 with a text emphasis on threaded spindle. The search for group V would be in class 83, punches. The other groups also have unique searches and further examples can be provided if needed.

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different search and because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
